Dr. Laura Nelson, Task Force co-chair
Governor's Energy Advisor and Executive Director Utah Office of Energy Development

NARUC-NASEO Task Force

Purpose: Develop new pathways for aligned electricity planning

- Distribution level planning (e.g., distribution system planning, grid modernization)
- Resource level planning (e.g., integrated resource planning, RPS compliance)
- 4 workshops over 2 years (start spring 2019)
 - Two member-only workshops
 - Two member-stakeholder workshops
- State leaders collaborate through a facilitated process
 - Commission and state energy office from each state working together

Targeted Outcomes

1. Innovation: Pioneer new tools and roadmaps for aligning planning to meet state needs

- Participants will convene in multi-state cohorts with others operating in similar market, regulatory, and policy environments

2. Action: Apply insights to directly benefit state action

- Each state will develop concrete steps / an action plan at the end of the initiative

3. Replication: NARUC and NASEO will publish templates to support all members

Participants will be supported by each other, technical experts, and facilitators

16 States will represent NARUC & NASEO members

Accepted 16 states from 21 applications

Selected States Ensure Diversity across:

- Geography
- Market models (e.g., retail competition, wholesale market)
- Planning approaches (e.g., state energy office roles, distribution system planning)
- State Goals (e.g., grid mod, resilience, climate, clean energy, economic development)
